Site Description

The site comprises an existing Log Cabin, with access proposed through the demolition and removal of the detached garage of Orchard Cottage Westerham Road, Keston BR2 6HB. The plot is approached off an private drive from the main Holwood Estate entrance on Westerham Road. The site benefits from an individual private drive, with the plot widening to full width where the new dwelling will be located ,the site then narrows slightly at the far end of the plot.

The proposed scheme involves the demolition of the existing log cabin (which the vendors reserve the right to remove prior to completion), and the erection of a single storey, three bedroom contemporary dwelling with associated parking and access.

The site which gently slopes gently from south to north overlooks fields to the north ,woodland to the west and adjoins the retained garden of Orchard Cottage to the east.

Location

The site is located in a pleasant Green Belt location near Keston, a village in greater London located within the Borough of Bromley. It enjoys a delightful rural setting, located in a quiet backwater of Keston backing onto Green Belt land. We understand the site lies on the edge of the historic Holwood Estate the former home of the once Prime Minister William Pitt the Younger. Although close to local amenities including Keston Common and the well known Keston Ponds, the site offers peace and tranquillity with the benefits of nearby excellent transport links.

Keston is located an approximate 3.8 miles from Bromley, with its excellent shopping facilities, schools and leisure facilities. Bromley is situated approximately 15 miles from the centre of London. Meanwhile Bromley South Railway Station offers an approximate 20 minute service to London Victoria. The town also benefits from being on multiple London Bus routes.
